6. Camp Grouping Policy

At AIM Sports Summer Camp, we group campers primarily by age to ensure an appropriate and balanced learning environment. We have two primary age groups:

- Ages 5-9: Our younger campers fall into this group, focusing on fun, foundational skills, and basic game rules.
- Ages 10-14: This group caters to our older campers, focusing on skill refinement, strategy, and advanced gameplay.

We recognize that skill level can vary greatly among campers of the same age. Therefore, if a camper demonstrates advanced skills for their age, they can request to be moved to a more advanced group to ensure they are adequately challenged. This results in two proficiency-based groups:

- Intermediate Group: For campers who are developing their skills and understanding of the games.
- Advanced Group: For campers who show a high level of skill need more challenging activities.

For future references, If we are able to maintain our 1:10 coach to camper ratio, we will divide it into three groups with ages 5-7, 8-10, and 10-13.

Please note that siblings in different age groups are encouraged to stay with their respective groups for a balanced and fair experience. This policy ensures each camper receives the most suitable coaching for their age and skill level
